

Things That Matter :30, 90 Words

Script	Visuals	Backup
Darryl Mobley DTC: WORKING EVERY DAY, HAVING A KID, I FEEL LIKE I'M MISSING SO MUCH JUST TO PROVIDE FOR HER AND KEEP THE FAMILY AFLOAT. ALL I'M ASKING IS FOR THINGS TO BE A LITTLE BIT EASIER. KAMALA HARRIS IS LISTENING. HER PLANS BRING DOWN THE COST OF FOOD AND ELECTRICITY.	Darryl Mobley DTC Visuals: Harris broll and pictures of Darryl and his daughter TOS: Kamala: "Lowering the costs of food, housing, health care and childcare" - CNBC Citation	August 2024: Kamala Harris said: "When I am elected President, I will make it a top priority to bring down costs and increase economic security for all Americans." Kamala Harris, on August 16, 2024, said: "When I am elected President, I will make it a top priority to bring down costs and increase economic security for all Americans." (WTVC NewsChannel YouTube, 08/16/24) Kamala Harris's "plan to lower costs and expand opportunity for working and middle-class Americans" includes strengthening "penalties for price-gouging" on gas and groceries. Kamala Harris's "plan to lower costs and expand opportunity for working and middle-class Americans" includes strengthening "penalties for price-gouging, especially on groceries, gas, and other essentials." (Facebook, 08/16/24) Kamala Harris' "opportunity economy" plan is to be "lowering the costs of food, housing, health care and childcare," by instituting a "federal ban on price gouging on groceries, a new $6,000 child tax credit for families with newborns and a $25,000 boost for first-time home buyers." "Vice President Kamala Harris outlined her plan to create an 'opportunity economy' by focusing on lowering the costs of food, housing, health care and childcare. Her plan includes a federal ban on price gouging on groceries, a new $6,000 child tax credit for families with newborns and a $25,000 boost for first-time home buyers." (CNBC, 08/16/24)
SHE'S CUTTING TAXES FOR PEOPLE LIKE ME AND SHE'S REPLACING DEADLY LEAD PIPES.	TOS: Kamala: "Expansion of the child tax credit" - CNN Citation TOS: Kamala: "Unveils plan	August 2024: Kamala Harris announced "a slate of economic proposals that she would prioritize during her first 100 days in office, if she were to win the presidential election," including "a cap on out-of-pocket costs for prescription drugs and Medicare drug price negotiations. Cap out-of-pocket prescription drug costs Harris said she would cap out-of-pocket costs for insulin at $35 a month and cap yearly out-of-pocket costs for all prescription drugs at $2,000 for everyone, and not just seniors on Medicare."

AND INVESTING IN OUR FUTURE.	to replace lead pipes” - NPR Citation TOS: Kamala: “Help Americans climb their way into the middle class” - The New York Times Citation	“Vice President Kamala Harris announced on Friday a slate of economic proposals that she would prioritize during her first 100 days in office, if she were to win the presidential election. The proposals included a number of healthcare policies aiming to lower prescription drug costs and alleviate medical debt, according to a factsheet shared by her campaign. Some of the proposals build upon policies passed by the Biden-Harris Administration in the Inflation Reduction Act (IRA) in 2022 — including a cap on out-of-pocket costs for prescription drugs and Medicare drug price negotiations. Cap out-of-pocket prescription drug costs Harris said she would cap out-of-pocket costs for insulin at $35 a month and cap yearly out-of-pocket costs for all prescription drugs at $2,000 for everyone, and not just seniors on Medicare. Under the IRA, the $35 cap on insulin went into effect in 2023 for people on Medicare. The $2,000 cap for Medicare beneficiaries is set to start next year.” (QZ, 08/16/24) Kamala Harris’s “populist economic agenda” proposes “tax relief for more than 100 million middle-class and lower-income Americans,” as well as “measures aimed at making housing, groceries, health care and child rearing more affordable.” Her plan “would also add a new child tax credit of up to $6,000 for middle-class and lower-income families with children in their first year of life,” when “family’s expenses, such as cribs, diapers and car seats, can be at their highest and when many parents have to take time off from their jobs,” “Expansion of the child tax credit to as much as $3,600, up from $2,000, and call[s] for it to be made permanent,” and “calls for restoring the American Rescue Plan’s enhancement of the earned income tax credit, known as the EITC, which increased the maximum credit for workers without dependent children to roughly $1,500.” “Vice President Kamala Harris on Friday unveiled a populist economic agenda, proposing a new plan to provide tax relief for more than 100 million middle-class and lower-income Americans as she builds out the details of her governing agenda weeks after locking down the Democratic presidential nomination. The vice president proposed her economic platform — which includes measures aimed at making housing, groceries, health care and child rearing
-------------------------------------------------	---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------

more affordable — in a speech in battleground North Carolina.” (CNN, 08/16/24)

“Harris’ plan would restore the American Rescue Plan’s popular expansion of the child tax credit to as much as $3,600, up from $2,000, and call for it to be made permanent. The enhancement was only in effect in 2021. Biden and Democratic leaders on Capitol Hill have been unsuccessful in their efforts to partially revive it – in part because of its hefty price tag. A bipartisan bill that would have temporarily beefed up the child tax credit passed the House earlier this year but was blocked by Republicans in the Senate. The proposal would also add a new child tax credit of up to $6,000 for middle-class and lower-income families with children in their first year of life. That’s when a family’s expenses, such as cribs, diapers and car seats, can be at their highest and when many parents have to take time off from their jobs, the campaign noted. The agenda also calls for restoring the American Rescue Plan’s enhancement of the earned income tax credit, known as the EITC, which increased the maximum credit for workers without dependent children to roughly $1,500. That previous boost was only in effect for 2021. The vice president’s package calls for extending the more generous Affordable Care Act premium subsidies that are set to expire at the end of 2025. The enhancement, which was made available through the American Rescue Plan and extended by the Inflation Reduction Act, has helped push sign-ups for Obamacare coverage to record levels.” (CNN, 08/16/24)

NPR headline: “Harris unveils plan to replace lead pipes in the next 10 years”

NPR headline: “Harris unveils plan to replace lead pipes in the next 10 years” (NPR, 12/17/21)

Kamala Harris cast the tie-breaking vote to pass the Bipartisan Infrastructure Law, which invests $15 billion into lead pipe removal, the goal of which is “removing 100% of lead service lines,” as there “are still an estimated 9.2 million lead service lines in cities and towns across the country, many of which are in low-income neighborhoods and communities of color.”

On November 5, 2021, Susan Wild voted for the Bipartisan Infrastructure Law. (Congress.gov, 06/04/21 and House

		Clerk Roll Call 369, 11/05/21) “There are still an estimated 9.2 million lead service lines in cities and towns across the country, many of which are in low-income neighborhoods and communities of color. The Bipartisan Infrastructure Law will deliver resources to remove these lead pipes, in line with President Biden’s goal of removing 100% of lead service lines. The Bipartisan Infrastructure Law invests $15 billion towards LSLR through the DWSRF. With this investment, 49% of funds will be provided to communities as grants or principal forgiveness loans. State match is not required.” (EPA, 12/22/23) “The EPA is making $3 billion from the bipartisan infrastructure law available to states to replace lead drinking water pipes, the White House announced Thursday. The funding is part of $15 billion Congress provided for lead service line replacement in annual installments through 2026. The money is being distributed by states through the Environmental Protection Agency’s Drinking Water State Revolving Fund. The EPA expects the funding to help replace 1.7 million lead pipes across the US.” (Bloomberg Law, 05/02/24) “The main thrust of Ms. Harris’s vision is clear: a mixture of government intervention and government assistance, all meant to help Americans climb their way into the middle class.” “But the main thrust of Ms. Harris’s vision is clear: a mixture of government intervention and government assistance, all meant to help Americans climb their way into the middle class.” (New York Times, 08/16/24)
KAMALA IS FOCUSING ON THINGS THAT MATTER. WHICH MEANS I CAN, TOO.	Kamala Harris at lectern Mobley DTC with photo of his daughter
	TOS: Paid for by Climate

	Power Action, www.climatepoweraction.us, LCV Victory Fund, www.lcvvictoryfund.org, and FF PAC, ffpac.org. Not authorized by any candidate or candidate's committee.
--	------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	--